JILTED DRAFTEE SHOOTS FIANCEE

GIRL, BECAUSE SWEETHEART IS PLACED IN CLASS ONE, BREAKS ENGAGEMENT.

(By Associated Press.)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 9.—Jesse Weagley, a Clay county, Missouri farmer, is in a Kansas City hospital with three bullet wounds in his breast and Miss Elizabeth Clements, his fiancée, is dying as the result of a shooting late yesterday in front of the latter's home near Linden, Mo. According to Miss Clements' mother, Mrs. D. M. Clements, Weagley called the girl from the house and shot her. He then walked down the road a few hundred yards, where he was found dangerously wounded a few minutes later.

Miss Clements sent Weagley a letter breaking off their engagement and explaining that her parents objected. The letter and the engagement ring she had returned were found in Weagley's pockets and across the envelope he had written directions for his funeral.

The objection of Miss Clements' parents to their daughter marrying Weagley was said to have been based largely on the fact that he was liable to be drafted, having been placed in class A division one by his local draft board.

RELIGIONS IN CHINA.

One For Everyday Life, One For Sickness and One For Death.

The state religion is not Confucianism, though founded on it. To the worship of heaven it adds the worship of nature in its chief material forms, such as the earth, sun, moon and stars, mountains and rivers. To the cults of ancestors it not only adds that of heroes, but expands so as to take in many of the divinities of Taoism and Buddhism, thus forming a compound of the three religions.

Logically the three are irreconcilable. The Taoist being materialism, the Buddhist idealism and the Confucian essentially ethical. Yet the people, like the state, make of them a unity by swallowing portions of each. In ordinary their lives are regulated by Confucian forms; in sickness they call in Taoist priests to exorcise evil spirits, and at funerals they have Buddhist priests to say masses for the repose of the soul.

Besides the women and the priest-brood the two sects last named have very few professed adherents, though the whole nation is more or less tinged by them. The men (at least those who can read) almost without exception profess to be followers of Confucius—Scientific Monthly.

"THE HONOR SYSTEM" TODAY.

"The Honor System," a powerful human interest drama, will be seen at the Butler today. The staging of this spectacular play in Arizona and California caused a sensation in the Far West. The resources of the state and the wealth of one of the largest film corporations were taxed to produce a work, the direct appeal of which is to the hearts of the people. This is because "The Honor System" deals with the here and now of one of the world's most perplexing questions. It shows the individual in a tragic battle against the forces of society. Since "Way Down East" and "The Old Homestead" on the legitimate stage nothing else has been produced of such vital dramatic fibre. Note what the new York press has to say about this masterpiece: "A triumph!"—N. Y. Sun. "The Honor System," the greatest picture ever made."—N. Y. American. "Will entertain and make young and old think."—N. Y. Herald. "Lyric theater crowded after make young and old think."—N. Y. Morning Telegraph. It is the greatest human story ever told, this big eight-reeler, with George Walsh, Miriam Cooper and Gladys Brockwell as principals, supported by an all-star Fox cast. The matinee will start at the same time as usual. The first night show, however, will start promptly at 6:45—the second one at 8:45—owing to the length of the picture. There will be no preliminary reel. Admission 20 cents and 25 cents; children, in the evening, 15 cents; children, at the matinee, 11 cents. Do not let anything keep you away. It is one of the greatest film achievements of modern times. It will be shown one day only.

Tomorrow, a treat—Harold Lockwood, in "The Haunted Pajamas," a picture that is good for a groan. It's a knockout. It's a scream. It's 100 per cent perfect.

LEGALIZED NICKNAMES.

They Appeared in Official Records in Colonial Times.

Nicknames are not likely to go out of fashion so long as human nature remains what it is. In these days, however, it is not customary to spread such titles upon official records, as was formerly the habit, according to the archives of several of our states.

In the Dutch records in 1644 we have John Pietersen, alias Friend John. In the Newtown purchase from the Indians, dated in 1656, one of the boundaries is "by a Dutchman's land called Hans the Boer," and in the Bushwick patent, dated Oct. 12, 1667, one of the boundaries is "John the Swede's meadow." In 1685, in the Kings county records, a man is named living at Gowanus as "Tunis the Fisher."

The common council of New York in 1691 ordered fish to be brought into the dock "over against the city hall or the house that Long Mary formerly lived in," and in the same year an order was passed "that Toknot Betty and her children be provided for as objects of charity."

The explanation of this custom in many cases was that the persons in question either had no family names or had forgotten them, so that the use of their generally accepted nicknames became a necessity.

LABOR PROGRAM

600 workers for war factories and shipbuilding plants.

The president authorized Secretary Wilson to provide, first, an adequate and stable supply of labor to war industries through a satisfactory system of labor exchanges, a satisfactory method of training workers, an agency for determining priorities of labor demands and agencies for dilution of skilled labor when needed. The section on industrial service of the council of national defense, headed by L. C. Marshall, will cooperate in directing laborers obtained by voluntary recruiting to shipbuilding plants and war munitions factories which need more men. Dilution of labor is not regarded now as imperative and doubtless will be one of the questions put aside until the army's drain on the men makes necessary the introduction of women.

NOTICE TO MEMBERS.

Installation of officers of the Women's Relief Corps will be held in Eagles' hall at 8 o'clock this evening. All members are urged to attend. 1081J911
